

Meet Jack Chen, Pharm D.

Claremont Parkinson Support Group welcomes back Pharmacist, Jack Chen, PharmD, FASCP, FCCP, BCPS, BCGP , Aph, on Saturday, September 9, 2017 for an open discussion/ question and answer session! Hope you can join us!!

Jack J. Chen, PharmD, FASCP, FCCP, BCPS, BCGP, APh is currently Chair and Professor – Department of Pharmacy Practice at the College of Pharmacy, Marshall B. Ketchum University, Fullerton, California

Pharmacists are medication experts trained to understand how medications work in your body, and to identify medication interactions and problems. Pharmacists can look at all of the medications you take, including non-prescription medications, and help you determine if your medications are doing what they are supposed to do.

Pharmacists can also provide medication reviews. Many people take medications prescribed by different physicians for many medical problems which could lead to medication duplications. That is why it is important to have a regular review of your medications by your physician or your pharmacist. If at all possible, use the same pharmacy for all of your medication needs. Ask your pharmacist when you have questions about your drugs or drug costs. They may suggest another drug to you and to your physician that could save you money.

Claremont Parkinson Support Group

Guest Speaker: Jack Chen, Pharmacist, PharmD.

TOPIC: Medications: Round Table answer/question format

When: September 9, 2017 from 10 am to 12 noon

Where: Joslyn Senior Center, 660 N. Mountain Ave., Claremont CA 91711
(main building, Weinberger Wing)

Please RSVP to The NeuroCommunity Foundation or call the group leader.

The Claremont Parkinson's Explorers Support Group meets on the 2nd Saturday of the month and welcomes people with PD, their family members and caregivers. The meetings include educational presentations with a great balance of social interaction and time for questions with the speaker.